ACADEMIC CONSULTING SERVICES

Peregrine Global provides a variety of academic consulting services used by both accreditation organizations and institutions of higher education around the world for quality enhancement, capacity development, and sustainability.

We regularly conduct training workshops for faculty and school administration teams related to strategic planning, learning outcomes assessment, academic program development, accreditation self-study preparation, and quality assurance. With decades of collective experience with colleges/universities and accreditation organizations, we have the needed credentials to assist you effectively with your accreditation-related requirements. Our specific area of expertise is accreditation document review and accreditation agency development.

FOR ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

Specifically, we offer consulting services for colleges and universities:

- ▶ Seeking or renewing accreditation (e.g., assisting with planning and supporting the self-study process)
- ▶ Developing new academic programs (curriculum content) or reviewing existing programs (curriculum content)
- ▶ Developing, reviewing, or simplifying outcomes assessment (quality assurance) processes for programs and non-academic departments
- ▶ Assisting with faculty evaluation, faculty development, and institutional management
- ▶ Facilitating strategic planning and institutional capacity development

FOR ACCREDITATION AGENCIES

Additionally, we offer consulting services to accreditation agencies and organizations with:

- ▶ Recognition by national or global bodies such as CHEA (the Council for Higher Education Accreditation) or EQAR (the European Quality Assurance Register for Higher Education)
- ▶ Reviewing, developing, and improving accreditation standards, guidelines, and principles
- ▶ Alignment of governance, structure, and accreditation practices with the International Network for Quality Assurance Agencies in Higher Education (INQAAHE)

Areas of expertise related to our consulting services, seminars, and workshops include nearly all aspects of quality enhancement, leadership, and programmatic and institutional accreditation. We can assist you and your team with the development of self-study reports, academic program evaluation, strategic planning, faculty evaluation, international accreditation, and accreditation recognition.

CONSULTING SERVICE PRICING

Our pricing for most consulting work is $125 per hour. If travel is involved with the consulting project, additional expenses will need to be considered. For most projects, we can conduct the necessary work using remote means.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Peregrine Leadership Institute provides leadership development and management services with interactive, in-person workshops and seminars throughout the world. We offer seminar-based instruction for leadership development of teams, staff, and faculty. Seminar content and length are designed to fit the unique needs of the client organizations and groups, and to address their specific concerns, issues, and vision.

Leadership seminars and team development workshops focus on application. Major topic areas include strategic planning, executive leadership, coaching and mentoring, character leadership, performance management, team development, governance, overcoming conflict, and leading change.

Peregrine Leadership Institute includes professionals with years of practical experience at all organizational levels, from front line supervisor through senior executive. All workshop facilitators and leadership coaches have the right combination of practical experience, professional training, and the competency needed to facilitate impactful workshops and provide meaningful coaching.

Leadership is about bringing out the potential in others through the active expression of core values in order to obtain goals. Leadership is essential for organizational success. Leadership is winning the hearts and minds, all the time, everywhere. Leaders are made through hard work and dedication. It is how we grow organizations and impact lives. However, as we all know, leadership is not just an idea: it requires action and participation.

Collectively, we have worked in state and federal government and in private businesses spanning the sectors of energy, education, industrial and consumer products manufacturing, knowledge-based industries, higher education, law enforcement, defense, emergency management, retail, and services/support industries. Our past positions include supervisor, manager, human resource specialist, corporate trainer, company officer, senior executive, and chief executive. We are a diversified team of highly trained and motivated professionals with an absolute passion for values-based leadership.

Our focus is on workplace application. We do not dwell on dated leadership theory. Instead, our focus is on applying leadership techniques in a practical way for immediate use in the workplace. We do not use role-playing in our workshops, rather we use proven methods for practical adult education. Our approach is unique and it is in this uniqueness that you will realize the value-added difference as you make your investment in your team.

STRATEGIC PLANNING ASSISTANCE

At Peregrine Leadership Institute, we have the experience and competency to facilitate strategic planning sessions. The strategic plan is the framework that brings together all the elements required for program-level and institutional-level accreditation. With our leadership and planning skills, along with our background in accreditation and academia, we are able to provide strategic planning sessions and processes that meet all your requirements.

ONLINE LEADERSHIP MODULES

Online Leadership Modules are designed to give practical tips to increase the skill level in areas that are critical for the success of supervisors and managers. These online courses focus on specific leadership skills such as communications, dealing with conflict, coaching and mentoring, and team building.

ONLINE 360° LEADERSHIP ASSESSMENT SERVICES

The 360° Leadership Assessment is a survey administered to your employees to help determine the current leadership skills of the employee's supervisors and managers. The results of this survey can be used to guide and shape the strategic framework of an organizational leadership development program.

LEADERSHIP AND STRATEGIC PLANNING WORKSHOP PRICING

The price per day for a leadership workshop, a training session, or a strategic planning seminar is $2700, plus travel expenses. In some situations, the program can be delivered remotely.
