

Leading Change

Being able to lead your teams through change is one of the most important talents today's leaders can have. Change is what leads to growth and innovation and yet, for many of us, change can be hard. This is increasingly true in today's world, where change barrels at us full speed, often before we have even caught up with whatever happened last.

This module will help you understand how to lead through change in a way that soothes fears and keeps your workplace thriving. You will learn tools for changing resistance to excitement, for keeping your team inspired about the change, and for understanding and minimizing the barriers that keep people from embracing change.

Outcomes

1. Define what change is and why change is important in leadership.
2. Recognize the common barriers to change.
3. Lead to overcome the resistance to change.
4. Use the change survival guide for change management.
5. Understand how to keep the team inspired through a change initiative.
6. Apply John Kotter's eight-step process for effective change management.

Inclusion and Alignment

Make It Feel Inclusive

Consider assigning remote staff with a local point of contact where communication and connection are valued. Expect there to be a ramp-up period filled with clear steps, expectations, and check-ins to ensure the process is fully embraced.

Filter For Mission, Values, Outcomes and Role

Remote workers are often frozen out of regular-office human interaction, so on-target over-communication is critical. Help them get aligned with mission, the values, as well as the outcomes and how they contribute.
